"Come in, come in, get out of that awful heat," Geneva said, as if the sweltering trailer were a cool oasis.."Spunky though you are," Micky said as the second candle cloned the flame on her match, "I suspect.Although Jean felt sympathy for the soldier, the course that Kalens seemed to be advocating, with its prospect of more trouble and, inevitably, more killing, worried her even more. Why did it always have to be like this? she asked herself. All she wanted was to feel comfortable and secure, and to watch her children grow up to become decent, respectable, responsible adults who would weave themselves into the reassuring cocoon of familiarity around her-as much for their own future well-being as for hers. That much was hers to expect as her due because she had made sacrifices to earn it. It threatened nobody. So why should other people's squabbles which were not of her making now threaten her with sweeping it all away?.Unextinguished laughter shakes the skies. ? But the timing of the moment was not in Lechat's favor, and Borfein torpedoed the motion fresh off the launching ramp. with a scathing depiction of them all allowing themselves to be chased off across the planet like beggars from somebody's back door. Ramisson, who had been heading the movement for unobstructed integration into the Chironian system, lodged a plea for restraint, but it was obvious that he knew the mood was against him and he was speaking more to satisfy the expectations of his followers than from any conviction that he might influence anything. The assembly listened dutifully and took no notice.."Hi," the redhead called, a shade cautiously.."Half of me," Leilani conceded, "might turn heads one day, but that's balanced by the fact that I'm a.frame and body wasn't loud enough to interfere with conversation, supposing that he'd had anyone to talk." The homey glow of three unscented candles that had been acquired with."I know you didn't, Aunt Gen. I know."..Colman was becoming irritated again. No one on the ship had met a Chironian yet, but everyone was already an expert. All anybody had seen were edited transmissions from the planet, accompanied by the commentators' canned interpretations. Why couldn't people realize when they were being told what to think? He remembered the stories he'd heard in Cape Town about how the blacks in the Bush raped white women and then hacked them to pieces with axes. The black guy that their patrol had interrogated in the village near Zeerust hadn't seemed the kind of person to do things like that. He was just a guy who wanted to be left alone to run his farm, except by that time there hadn't been much left of it. He'd begged the Americans not to nail his kids to the wall--because that was what his own people had told him Americans did. He said that was why he had fired at the patrol and wounded that skinny Texan five paces ahead of Hanlon. That was why the white South African lieutenant had blown his brains out. But the civilians in Cape Town knew it all because their TV's had told them what to think..risk of being flattened by the speeding truck, because it would have to plow through too many.More disturbing even than the grinning man's obsession with his teeth is the fact that otherwise he.would actually tighten up a notch."..and insanity.
